NEW SCHEDULE FOR STEAMERS

The Pacific Mail and the O. & O. steamship companies have just adopted their new joint schedule which has been necessitated by the coming of the big liner Manchuria into the Transpacific fleet. Advices from San Francisco give the following facts about the sailing of the vessels from that port.

It is not known what disposition will be made of her although it is very likely that she will be given the task to which all the proud Atlantic liners finally come-that of carting emigrants across "the big pend."

HAWAIIAN ISLES FROM NEWCASTLE

The ship Hawaiian Isles arrived off port Friday night and was towed into port yesterday morning. She was forty-one days out from Newcastle with a cargo of coal, having made the fastest passage from that port to Honoiulu this season. Incidentally she broke all records for the run, from Melbourne to Sydney, making the passage in two and one-half days. The trip to this city was made without incident save for the breaking of a bolt in the steering gear which necessitated the steering of the ship by means of tackle for over twenty-four hours. On her voyage from New York to Melbourne the Hawaiian Isles made a very fast passage but was unfortunate in losing three men. One of these was a boatswain who was swept away in a storm. Nothing could be done to save him because it would have endangered the lives of every soul on board if an attempt had been made to put about. The other two men committed suicide by deliberately jumping overboard. The Hawaian Isles brings 3400 tons of coal.

NO MAIL BOATS FOR LONG TIME

The China finished loading her freight this morning and got away for the Orient a few minutes after ten yesterday morning. On account of the crowded state of the harbor she was forced to dock at the Channel wharf this trip. The Siberia was at the Hackfeld dock, the Alameda at the Oceanic wharf, the transport Solace and the coal ship at the Navy docks so that the harbor presented a very busy scene.

For the coast after the Alameda the Sierra and the Coptic will both sail August 23.

AMERICA MARU MAY LEAVE RUN

Considerable speculation has been indulged in as to the chances of the America Maru in her endeavor to get to the port of Yokohama without running into any of the various Russian warships at large in the ocean. The Maru left this port for the Orient last Sunday so it will be several days before she should be heard from, especially as on her previous trips since the outbreak of the war she has approached the coast with great caution, going far out of her course to avoid any chance of capture. Her departure from San Francisco vas delayed until the danger from the Vladivostok squadron seemed over but with the escape of the Port Arthur fleet a new danger awaits her. She would be a most desirable prize for the Russtore, best of location, sians as beside carrying a large amount ling materials for the manufacture of York, July 23.

powder it is reported on good authority that she carries two submarine torpedo boats built for the Japanese government in the States. These craft were refused transportation on the Mongolia.

Aside from her cargo which contained munitions of war of which the Russians are sorely in need, the Maru herself is a fine vessel and would come in handy in almost any emergency. In fact it is rumored that she may be taken off after this run and put into service again as a transport or perhaps, as of fighting ships, she may be used as an unarmored cruiser as the American liners were during the Spanish war. She is swift and armed with rapid fire guns she could make it interesting for torpedo craft and would make a very effective commerce destroyer. In this connection it is believed that the vessel still has guns aboard although there were none visible when she was off this port last Sunday ..

The Commissary-General of the Army has suggested that stores going to Manila from San Francisco or New York on the regular steamship lines may be confused with stores for Japan or China and he has recommended that this liability of seizure by the Russian fleet be avoided by arranging for the shipment of the material in transports from San Francisco. In the case of shipments from New York he suggests that they could be so arranged as to make use of the transports when they leave that port for the Philippines.

Gen. McKenzie stated that the annual batch of reports received from army engineers on various river and harbor improvements the country over contained nothing from Hawaii. The engineer's office has been conducting no improvements there since it completed the 30foot channel at Pearl Harbor.

They made things hum at Atlantic City, dispensing California wines to all the Nobles who approached their oasis. After the council had adjourned the party, including Dr. Grossman, visited New York and Boston. In returning they planned to visit Pike's Peak and the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.
